What has been the most challenging part of your job recently? And, have you made any changes to try and solve some of those issues? Most Challenging part recently was completing a construction and remodeling project. And, still working on budgets and year end finances. I resolved some of the issues by delegating those things that I could and asking for help when needed.

What have been the most important steps in your life (schools, jobs, etc.) that have led you to where you are today? It was a progression and a very long story. But, as I worked in operations, facilities and administration, I was drawn to the many hats that a facilities professional needs to wear. And at the end of the day, it is nice to see how we impact the success of our employer.

Many people who work within the FM world have to act as ‘leaders’ in their jobs. What do you think makes a good leader, and have you done anything recently that has made you a leader? A good leader leads by example, includes other people, open communication, honesty and gives encouragement and praise to those around him/her.
A year from now, what will you have hoped to accomplish, professionally or personally? Professionally would be to continue to grow in my field. I would like to learn more about the new ideas, initiatives and areas of facilities management. Personally I want to be able to enjoy my kids more. They continue to grow and because work is ever demanding, sometimes we forget about our family and personal interests.
